 has been a staple in the local community since the late 1940's. It is an old-fashioned mom and pop grocery and general store. Items sold include meat, produce, dairy, hardware, beer and gas, amongst many other items. The store caters to the locals, as there are no other stores in the immediate vicinity. The deli is the most critical part of the store. There is no identified supplier or customer risk. The owner leverages grocery suppliers in CT, produce suppliers from the Bronx and major vendors such as Pepsi, Coke, etc. The business is owner-operated, with the owner working full-time. This is a personal choice of hers. Staff Details on next page. Reason for Sale: Retirement Seller Training Time Period: Negotiable, current owner is extremely passionate and recognizes how integral Preston Country Market is to the local community. 3 new young workers. The ones I can hire when they are young usually stay through high school. Owner works around their schedules and they are young, can be molded into good employees.

"As you can see I have a loyal staff. I take pride in them and their loyalty to me and the store. Without them I would not have the business that I do. A potential buyer would have the perfect staff to walk into. Not only are these employees loyal to me but they like what they do, I pay them well because I want them to stay."
